GlobalSearch

Jooblay's GlobalSearch is a unique service that we offers our clients. GlobalSearch works by Jooblay being a conduit for Vendors and Customers both wholesale and retail. We specialize in new global products that we have found on our travels around the world. Energy drinks were created through global travel. A man from Austria was in Thailand on business and discovered a tincture that was being sipped by taxi cab drivers and boom the next thing you know we have energy drinks. This is an example of what Jooblay's GlobalSearch is all about. There are thousands of great products and services waiting to be discovered throughout the world and placed onto the open market for trade. You have the money and we have the time.

It is very important to understand the context of this service. By this we mean that we are hunters and gathers. Some humans ask us why we do not bring these products to market our selves. Well for one you are hiring us to find the products second like we said we are hunters we leave the farming to you. We have entered the Amazon from Peru and Brazil and searched into many nooks and crannies on 6 out of the 7 continents. Our travel knowledge is extensive. We are way past the Lonely Planet. The valuable asset that you are bring to your team by hiring us is the will. Our team is for lack of a better term what is left of the Hardcore Global Traveler. So if you are looking for the next level we not only have some ideas but have the will to go deep. We can follow your lead or you can follow ours.

We break your production into easy structural steps that you or your employees can follow.

Step 1: Contact us and talk about what you would like to develop.

Step 2: Send us a sample of the products that you would like to create. Or just describe it and we can send you samples.

Step 3: We source your production line for the most environmental cost affective vendors in the world.

Step 4: We have your samples made and sent direct to you.

Step 5: You have a meeting with our team to perfect any issues that you see with your product sample.

Step 6: Develop any packaging and related information for your new products.

Step 7: Now that you have a developed production line you can make an informed decision into your inventory levels and sales projections.

Once you have decided on a Product then we will develop a production line structure for your product. If you already have a sound Production Line Structure then we can adapt this new product into your existing structure. All Products that Jooblay develops are backed by a sound Production Structure that we develop and then train your team. At no time is the production out of your control. Our Clients control the whole production, receipt and or trade secrets.
